Davis International Scholars Program

at selected American boarding schools

All-schools gathering of Davis International Scholars

MISSION STATEMENT

Established in the 2007–2008 academic year, the Davis International Scholars Program provides scholarship funds to international students of talent and integrity with demonstrated need in support of greater global and socioeconomic diversity on American boarding school campuses. Davis Scholars are highly motivated future leaders who will make the most of their educational experiences. They are exceedingly well prepared to capitalize on their university experiences given the preparation they engage in at their member boarding schools. Since the program's inception, Davis Scholars have matriculated at a wide range of highly selective U.S. institutions. Their participation in this program ensures support for both secondary and post-secondary education. Davis Scholars are extraordinarily idealistic young people who are eager to prepare themselves for a life of service to society.

MEMBER BOARDING SCHOOLS

Founding members: Emma Willard School, The Lawrenceville School, Milton Academy, Phillips Academy, The Taft School, Westminster School,

WHO WE ARE: The Davis International Scholars Program is a six-member boarding school program with scholars from around the globe who matriculate at a variety of highly selective U.S. institutions after they complete their boarding school experience.

For more information about the program, please contact Ellie Dwight, Coordinator, Davis International Scholars Program, at elliedwight1012@gmail.com or 707-217-3254

ADMISSION CRITERIA: Member boarding schools recruit and select their own Davis Scholars. Each school is able to admit up to five new scholars per year in grades 10 and 11. Scholars are selected for their academic and leadership potential. Member schools seek to enroll Davis Scholars from countries that are underrepresented in their communities to enhance their geographic and cultural diversity.

COLLEGE FUNDING:
Davis International Scholars receive $25,000 annually for both their boarding school years and for four years of undergraduate education at an accredited college or university in the United States, totaling up to $175,000 for seven years.
